IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear Daddy and Husband, T. J. Gardner, who left us two years ago, Dec. 18, 1953.
As we think of you in silence,
And often call your name,
There's nothing left to see or answer,
But your picture in the frame.

The twinkle in your kind sweet eyes
Are just as bright to-day,
And the sound of your voice just as clear,
As the day you went away.

We often sit and think of you,
And speak of how you died,
To think you could not say goodbye,
Before you closed your eyes.

But they say time heals all sorrows,
And helps us sometimes to forget,
But to us it's only proven,
How much we miss you yet.

—Sadly missed by wife, and Children.

Home Agent's Notes

By Mrs. B. G. Anderson
Home Demonstration Agent

Home agent's notes: . . . — — —

We have all heard the phrase "The life you save may be your own," in connection with safe-driving. This phrase can well be applied in our homes as well as on our highways, especially during the coming Christmas season. Each year, we pick up our newspapers and see articles written about homes being burned, families being injured and perhaps killed because a few simple safety precautions were not taken to prevent injury, death and damage.

Our gaily decorated Christmas trees are considered a thing of joy in our homes during the Christmas season. The many colored ornaments, lights, the white snow and gold tinsel, all add to its attractiveness. Yet, this brightly decorated tree can also be a bringer of death and destruction unless we do take time to abide by a few simple safety hints.

In placing your tree, remember to keep it away from the fireplace or from any type of space heater. Heat will dry out the tree and increase the possibility of its burning.

Keep the base of the tree in wet sand or water. Use flame-resistant icicles, tinsel and snow. Most products of this type are clearly marked on the container as to their resistance to fire. Look for this on containers when buying these articles.

In the electrical department, we all know an overloaded circuit is dangerous. This is an item that we should all remember when placing the lights on the Christmas tree. Many times, sufficient outlets are not handy to take care of all the lights on the tree, without plugging several strings into one outlet. Don't overload one outlet by making it furnish electricity for all the lights. Better to have fewer lights than to have a definite fire hazard with an overloaded outlet.

Be sure there are no worn wires on your Christmas tree lights. Bare wires touching the limbs of your tree are inviting fire.

Very few people use candles on Christmas trees in this age of electricity, however, if you are one that does, you are taking the grave risk of losing your home, maybe even your life, by fire.

Take time to apply these safety hints so you and yours can be sure of a Happy and a Merry and a Safe Christmas.

No doubt you'll be having guests during the holiday season. Why not serve them buffet style?

This will take a lot of work from the hostess, such as waiting on tables, as well as trying to entertain those guests who might have had to wait because there was not sufficient room at the first table. Buffet style is becoming more and more popular when entertaining a crowd of people. Set your table so that everyone can pick up their plates, silver, napkins, etc., and then help themselves. Several small card tables placed in comfortable places in the iving room and dining room make it possible for all to be served at one time, including the hostess.

Why not try this if you haven't done so before? See how much more time you have to enjoy your guests.

Just a reminder to the members of the Home Demonstration Clubs in Appomattox County: don't forget our county-wide Christmas party, Dec. 15, at 2 P. M. at the cafeteria of the Appomattox Elementary School.

NEWS from HOLLYWOOD

It seems that Eva Marie Saint definitely has the role opposite Gregory Peck in "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit." In the story, she starts as a very young girl.

Marc Connelly, who has done just about everything on the Broadway stage, has been given the role of a Catholic priest, whom Lindbergh taught to fly a plane, in "The Spirit of St. Louis." This will be Connelly's motion picture debut.

Typical Hollywood story: Anita Ekberg, a year ago, was getting $25 an hour as a model. Today, she is getting $75,000 per film. Her next film is to be a costarring role with Victor Mature in "Zarak Khan," which is to be produced in Spanish Morocco.

Motion picture rights to "The Emperor Jones," the late Eugene O'Neil's tasty one-act stage success, have been obtained by Universal - International. The film will be based on "an up-to-date" adaptation of the play written by Jac Thall.

Bing Crosby plans to do only two TV shows this season, tossing them off between pictures. His first, a color TV special, entitled "High Tor," will be filmed by Desilu Productions—Desi Arnaz and Lucille Ball's producing unit.

As his first independent production, Marlon Brando has selected "To Tame a Lamb." It will be directed by Robert Parrish and distributed by Paramount.

Leslie Caron, Cyd Charisse and Carol Haney will be teamed in "Les Girls," described as a gay, romantic story about four show girls in Paris, to be produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. The fourth girl in the quartette, they hope, will be Jean Simmons, if present negotiations are successful.

Thomas and Dennis Bonilla, the 12-year-old twins who played the sons of Yul Brynner in the stage production of "The King and I," will enact the same roles in Fox's film version of the musical drama.

Celeste Holm finds that "when it rains, it pours." She has two pictures coming up at Metro — the Ruth Hussey role in a remake of "Philadelphia Story," now to be known as "High Society," and "The Opposite Sex." She is also wanted for another play on Broadway, and has just turned down another New York play.

For her next picture, Grace Kelly will co-star with Jimmy Stewart in "Designing Woman," with Josh Logan directing. Just how lucky can one girl be?

ANNUAL S. C. A. MEETING FOR DISTRICT HELD

The annual S. C. A. meeting of the Lynchburg District was held at the Rustburg High School on Dec. 1. Representatives were there from Lynchburg, and the counties of Appomattox, Amherst and Campbell.

Those from Appomattox Elementary School attending were Mrs. Jean Hesson, S. C. A. sponsor; Larry Torrence, president; Cary Anne Carson, secretary; Gerald Leffers, treasurer, and Patsy Guill, reporter.

Nina Callohan acted as chairman of the meeting. The Altavista High School Band provided entertainment. The Rev. Earl Martin, from Rustburg, talked on the theme, "The S. C. A. is Marching On."

The group was divided into smaller units for discussion.

Mrs. Hesson attended Group One, which was on, "How can the S. C. A. involve the student body in its projects?" Patsy Guill attended Group two, on "What are some good methods for securing favorable publicity for the S. C. A.?" Cary Anne Carson attended Group three on, "How can the S. C. A. promote better scholarship?" Larry Torrence attend Group four on, "What are the aims and objectives of the S. C. A.?" Gerald Leffers attended Group five, on "Why have an S. C. A.?"

In the afternoon there was a general summary of the group meetings which had been held in the morning. Remarks were made by Miss Elizabeth V. Lloyd, state director of the Student Cooperation Association.
